Subject: Responsible Transportation Update Through May 21, 2013

Good Morning Dr. Gilmore,

Thanks very much for your thoughts and prayers, they are truly most appreciated.

Responsible Transportation has suffered a bit of a setback and damage from the storms which progressed through the area the first part of the week. This has caused us to move the final walkthrough to the sometime, May 29th, 30th or 31st. The damage is minimal and should only delay completion by a few days. We will be setting the new walk through date with plant management by Friday, May 24th. On Tuesday, construction progressed in earnest, working on repairing damage and continuing installation of inspection stands and equipment. I will have further information tomorrow through Friday. Should you have any questions do not hesitate to contact me (BB is still down, but cell phone is 563-[REDACTED]). Thanks very much. [REDACTED]
